Who is eligible to seek office?

- Any associate or allied individual member may seek either office. When you consider running for a national office, you may wish to seek the endorsement of your region or chapter. The name of the sitting Senior Vice President automatically appears on the ballot as a candidate for the office of President.

How do I declare my candidacy?

- Send an email to the Nominating and Election Committee Chair (N&E) David Zappasodi at david.zappasodi@dhantx.com stating that you are a candidate for a particular office. Following your communication with Mr. Zappasodi, you will receive a “certification form,” which you must execute and submit to Sylvia Bowen at sbowen@nahro.org prior to announcing your candidacy.

When and where can I announce my candidacy?

- The earliest date that you may announce your candidacy is at the 2020 National Conference; the latest date is prior to the deadline for petitions, which is August 9, 2021.

How does national NAHRO allow the candidates to communicate with NAHRO members?

- Candidates will be invited to participate in-person and virtual debates and forums.
- Candidates’ profiles and campaign statements will be featured in the NAHRO Monitor and on their individual webpages on the NAHRO website.
- From May-August 2021, candidates may be asked to respond to a monthly question posed by the N&E. Answers will be published in the NAHRO Monitor and posted candidates’ webpages.
- Candidates will be able to send messages via email during periods specified by the N&E. Details will be transmitted directly to candidates.

Are there any campaign activities at the regional and chapter levels?

- We encourage regions and chapters to engage in activities like the above-mentioned national NAHRO activities. Additionally, we suggest that Regions and Chapters provide candidates with publication deadlines and specifications for submission of material for their newsletters.
Who are eligible voters?
