10 Years of Choice Neighborhoods: Planning to Implementation

The Choice Neighborhoods program is now in its tenth year and we can learn a lot about the successes and challenges in creating comprehensive transformations plans that address community health, education, training, jobs and economic development. The program’s goal of a holistic approach has played out in unique ways across the country in diverse communities. The three case studies will be Camden (NJ), Omaha (NE), and Memphis (TN) and will be from the perspective of a public housing authority, a community-based organization, and a mixed-income developer.
